

What is claimed is:

1. A jewelry comprising a main body having inlaid portion of concaved shape and decorating part attached to said inlaid portion, wherein said decorating part is composed of copper alloy which contains 6 to 15 weight percentage of copper and 94 to 85 weight percentage of gold.
2. A jewelry as claimed in Claim 1, wherein said jewelry are formed in curbed surface at foresaid inlaying portion of foresaid decorating part.
3. A jewelry as claimed in Claim 1, wherein said jewelry is selected from group of jewelry including rings, pendants, necklaces, earrings, cuff buttons, brooches, tie tacks, bangles, buckles, chokers, bracelets, watch band and glasses.
4. A method of manufacturing jewelry including steps of forming a main body having inlaid portion of concaved shape, of forming an decorating part into made of copper alloy containing 6 to 15 weight percentage of copper and 94 to 85 weight percentage of gold, of applying flux joint surfaces main body and/or an decorating part, of inserting said decorating part in said inlaid portion, of soldering surfaces of border of main body and decorating parts.
6. A method of cleaning jewelry in Claim 1, wherein polishing process is applied on surface of decorating part after certain time of use.